Molloy College Presents Seminar on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

The Molloy College Psychology Club is pleased to host Dr. Robert W. Motta, PhD, ABPP, ABBP. He will be speaking about his research on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder on February 25, 2005 from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the Kellenberg Reception Room. This event is free and open to the public and refreshments will be provided.

"The Psychology Club and Psychology Department are honored to welcome Dr. Motta and hear about his latest research on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder," said Dr. Cheryl Camenzuli, Assistant Professor of Psychology at Molloy and the event coordinator. "He is a noted expert in the area and we are fortunate that he is available to share his views with us."

Dr. Motta is a Diplomate of the American Board of Professional Psychology, a Diplomate of the American Board of Behavioral Psychology and past President of the School Psychology Division of the New York State Psychological Association. He is also an examiner for the American Board of Professional Psychology, a site reviewer of the American Psychological Association and is certified to provide child abuse identification and prevention instruction. In addition, he is currently a professor of psychology at Hofstra University and the director of the Hofstra Psy.D. Program in School and Community Psychology.

Dr. Motta's areas of research include childhood and adult post traumatic stress disorder, childhood learning and behavior problems, and the psychological and behavioral effects of exercise.

For more information about this event please contact Dr. Cheryl Camenzuli at 516-678-5000 extension 6109.
