Molloy College Offers Training Program: Working with Victims of Sexual Assault

Molloy College, Department of Social Work is once again sponsoring a 17-hour training program for professionals, students and volunteers who work with victims of rape, incest and sexual assault. Experts from the mental health, criminal justice, and medical fields will provide a holistic perspective regarding sexual violence toward women, men, and children.

According to Dr. Lois Carey, Ph.D., LCSW, Program Coordinator, "For the past eight years, the Department of Social Work has been sponsoring this invaluable training for helping professionals. The program offers critically important training for those working with crime victims and their loved ones. Helping those who have been sexually victimized is not for the fainthearted; rather it is for professionals who have the training, sensitivity and compassion to help people at painfully traumatic times in their lives as they begin to heal."

The two-day program is offered on February 4th and 11th from 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM in the Reception Room, Kellenberg Hall on the Molloy College campus. The program fee is $100; a 50% discount is offered to faculty, field instructors and students. Continuing Education Credits (CEU) are available through the National Association of Social Workers (NASW). For additional information, or registration, call Dawn Egan at (516) 678-5000, extension 6478.
