Molloy College Hosts Men in Nursing Seminar

The Molloy College Department of Nursing will be hosting a “Men in Nursing Seminar” on March 1, 2006 at 6:00 p.m. in the Multipurpose Room, Wilbur Arts Center. The purpose of the seminar is to assist men who are in the nursing program at Molloy gain insight into the nursing profession from a male perspective. A panel of men in a variety of nursing positions will share their experiences, professional activities and thoughts on nursing. The panel will discuss the reasons men choose nursing and the dynamic roles they play.

“This event is designed to assist Molloy’s male nursing students to learn more about the roles in nursing and the opportunities available to them by hearing from men who have been successful in the profession. Their perspectives will be both interesting and informative and will hopefully help our students focus on their professional goals. It is also an opportunity for the men in the Department of Nursing to get together to share their thoughts and to network,” explained Bernadette Curry, Ph.D, RN, Chairperson, Department of Nursing.
