Molloy College Presents Academic Symposium: Shaping and Re-shaping: The Process of Theological Understanding

The Siena Women's Center at Molloy College will be presenting its 10th annual Academic Symposium on April 21, 2006 from 9:30 am until 4:00 pm in the Hays Theatre, Wilbur Arts Center. This event is open to the public; however, registration is required.

The theme for this year is "Shaping and Re-shaping: The Process of Theological Understanding." The symposium agenda includes Colleen Mallon, O.P., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Theology at St. John's University speaking about "Hope in the Signs of These Times: Engaging the Theology of Yves Congar." Kathleen McManus, O.P., Ph.D., Associate Professor of Theology at the University of Portland will give a talk entitled "The Theology of Edward Schillebeeckx as a Resource for Today's Woman in the Church." Margaret Palliser, O.P., S.T.D., Assistant Vice President for Mission and Director, Center for Mission Education and Reflection, Sacred Heart University will discuss a topic entitled "Dominican Women Doing Theology: The Shape of Things to Come."

The Siena Women's Center at Molloy College focuses on issues pertinent to women in today's society. It offers a variety of lectures, discussions and symposia exploring topics of interest and importance to women.

For more information or to register for this event, please contact Darlene Martin at 516-678-5000 ext. 6302.
