Molloy College Forms Group to Assist Adolescents Who Stutter

Molloy College's Communication Arts and Sciences Department is pleased to announce the initiation of a group for adolescents ages 14-17 who stutter. The group will meet for one hour each week beginning Friday, October 13, 2006. The program will run for six weeks and there is no charge to participate.

"The stuttering group is intended to provide a supportive environment that assists students in improving their communication skills and gaining social confidence," states Dr. Barbara T. Schmidt, Director of Speech-Language Pathology, Molloy College.

Communication strategies, as well as the latest developments in stuttering research and treatment will be discussed. To register, or obtain additional information, contact the Communication Arts and Sciences Department at 516-678-5000 ext. 6281.
