Molloy College Hosts Cultural Arts Event

The Molloy College President's Advisory Board on Multi-Cultural Concerns will be hosting the St. Martin de Porres Cultural Arts Event on Wednesday, April 18, 2007 from 5:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in Kellenberg Hall.

"The annual St. Martin de Porres Scholarship event will celebrate multi-cultural perspectives and provide all with the opportunity to learn about different cultures and their traditions through art and music," explained S. Dorothy Fitzgibbons, O.P., Vice President for Mission, Molloy College. "We have invited many local artists and musicians to display their talents. This event promises to be an interesting and festive evening."

In recognition of their commitment to human rights and social justice, Dr. Sheila D'Nodal and Commissioner James H. Lawrence, will be honored at this event. Dr. D'Nodal is Vice President, Ambulatory Services, Chief Diversity Officer, South Nassau Communities Hospital, and Medical Director, South Nassau Primary Care. James H. Lawrence is the Commissioner of the Nassau County Police Department

Tickets to this event are $75.00 per person, which includes a buffet dinner. Proceeds support scholarships for students of African American and Hispanic heritage.

For further information please and to purchase tickets, contact Cynthia Metzger, Office of Advancement at 516.678.5000 ext. 6911.
