Contributing to the success of its recently completed capital campaign, Molloy College received a $25,000 donation from the Kanowitz and Gutterman families. This donation assisted the College in meeting its campaign goal and raising over $19 million dollars to make significant campus wide improvements.

Steven Kanowitz, who represented the Kanowitz family in presenting the donation to Molloy, has been a friend to the College for many years. "Steve's generosity has supported many events as well as scholarships at the College,” said Edward Thompson, Vice President For Advancement, Molloy College. “The Kanowitz and Gutterman families are fixtures in Rockville Centre and the College is very grateful to them for their generosity.”

The Gutterman family was represented by Philip Gutterman. Gutterman’s Inc. is a family-owned business located in Rockville Centre, Woodbury, Brooklyn, Queens, and Florida. The Gutterman’s philanthropy extends to many charitable organizations and their donation recognizes the purposeful and informative programming offered through Molloy’s Institute of Interfaith Dialogue. Molloy thanks them for their gift and welcomes them to its family of donors.
